

You spoke, and we listened!
Meet our new and improved RCM Series™ Mount!

When we redesigned the RCM Series™ Mount to include the spring clip, it was intended to make the installation and service processes easy and convenient. Since then, we have received invaluable feedback from our integrators helping us understand what worked and what fell short.

SCT is proud to introduce our new and improved RCM Series™ Mount, now shipping with all orders! Our new mounting bracket makes installation and service of our Camera-End Module easier than ever, while also eliminating any potential cosmetic damage to the module. For a cleaner finish, we've also added a cover that fits seamlessly with the wall mount plate, concealing the 2-gang wall box and unsightly cabling. A break-out tab at the bottom of the cover offers an additional pass-through option for cable management.

We always appreciate the opportunity to make our products better, and we hope you love the new RCM Series™ Mount as much as we do.
